DOT MANUAL

- Economical range of brush
- Dot manual's looks similar to Punched type brushes, but the difference in IMEXSU'S BRUSH is its unique and special construction
- Construction:

It is designed in such a way that there are two holes on the plate. The big hole is for holding the filament which serves as a guide. Beneath it there is a small hole through which SS wire is passed and tied. Here each tuft of filaments is carefully inserted with manual skill crafting and sequentially tied by passing the SS wire in a chain pattern with sufficient force to give a good holding effect on the tufts. As a result, the construction is strong and with the cutouts of the corners and notches the tufts don't come off easily. Additionally on top it is sealed with resin (over the wire) to doubly confirm the bonding.

IMEXSU's Dot manual brushes undergo both Mechanical and Chemical construction procedures to ensure stronger bonding of the filaments giving better and Confirmed Deburring and a longer durable life compared to the punched brushes.

DOT TUFTED / STAPLE SET

- Common and easily available in market
- Here each tuft is tied with mechanical force
- Tufts are open and flared from the top with uneven tips of the filaments
- Cheap but less life and poor performance

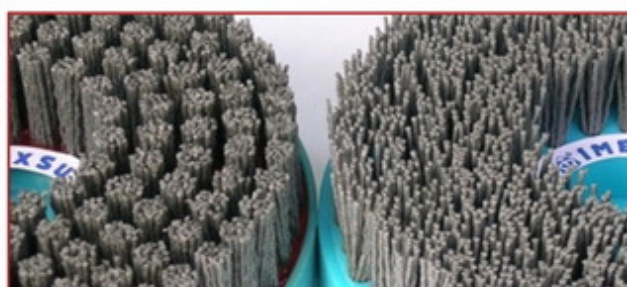

DOT CASTED - "ECO-LINE BRUSH"

- Basic over all patterns is similar to Dot Type
- Easy and Economical replacement of Dot Manual and Dot Tufted with better life and performance compared to both..
- More aggressive compared to Dot manual and Dot tufted.
- Faster Burr removal in comparison to Dot manual and Dot Tufted with shorter cycle times
- Constant pressure has to be maintained throughout the length of filament
